The hole developed about midnight and quickly enlarged into a crater approximately 45 feet deep, 40 feet wide and 60 feet long. A large chestnut tree was swallowed up. City engineers are attempting to determine what caused the crater.

Rush Defense Plans Against Missiles

McElroy Outlines U. S. Reaction to Threat; Sets Up Super Organization

WASHINGTON (AP)—America's aroused defense today rushed plans to leapfrog Russia into solar space and at the same time counter their intercontinental ballistic missile threat.

Scientists at Kirtland Air Force Base in Albuquerque, N. M., indicated they soon may possess a nuclear anti-missile—the "key to American defense" against a sneak enemy attack.

Lt. Col. McPherson Morgan, head of a Kirtland special weapons division, said "we feel we have a way of destroying nuclear and non-nuclear rockets out in space."

The Defense Department, meantime, has made rapid encirclement of the Soviet Union with ballistic missiles that can carry nuclear warheads 1,500 miles in 10 minutes a priority goal.

Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy outlined the U. S. military reaction to the Communists' Sputniks and loud rocket claims late Friday in his first formal news conference since succeeding Charles E. Wilson Oct. 9.

He announced he will set up a Pentagon super-organization, over and above the individual military services, to press research and development of "new and novel weapons" in the missile and satellite fields. The organization's chief, to be named within a month, will have authority over anti-ballistic missile missiles, outer space vehicles and "some other very up-stream types of weapon projects."

Plane Missing With 10 Aboard

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—A TB-29 Superfortress with 10 men aboard was reported missing and presumed down in an Alaskan wilderness, officials at Elmendorf Air Force Base here said today.

The plane left Elmendorf Friday morning on a round-robin flight. It was returning to Elmendorf and last made radio contact while over Talkeetna, about 70 air miles north of here.

Search planes from the 71st Air Rescue Squadron began a search for the missing plane but were forced to return to Elmendorf because of bad weather. The search will resume this morning, weather permitting.

Aboard the plane were three pilots, two navigators, a flight engineer and four other crew members. The airmen were not identified.

be "specific" projects in the "outer space area."

McElroy said from his "personal appraisal" of intelligence data "it seems rather obvious that we are behind the Russians" today in missiles and satellites.

But the nation is "moving rapidly," he said, and "can not only close gaps but do better than that."

McElroy promised speeded development of intermediate range ballistic missiles and said the government hoped to "move up the target date" for deploying the 1500-mile range weapons overseas.

Agreements to station the missiles at European bases will figure importantly at the North Atlantic Treaty Organization conference in Paris in December, he said. McElroy will attend the meeting with President Eisenhower.

Fund Drive for Mentally Retarded To Begin Monday

Carl Beggs, chairman of the Saline county drive to secure funds to aid in work with mentally retarded children, announced the drive would start Monday and continue through Nov. 28.

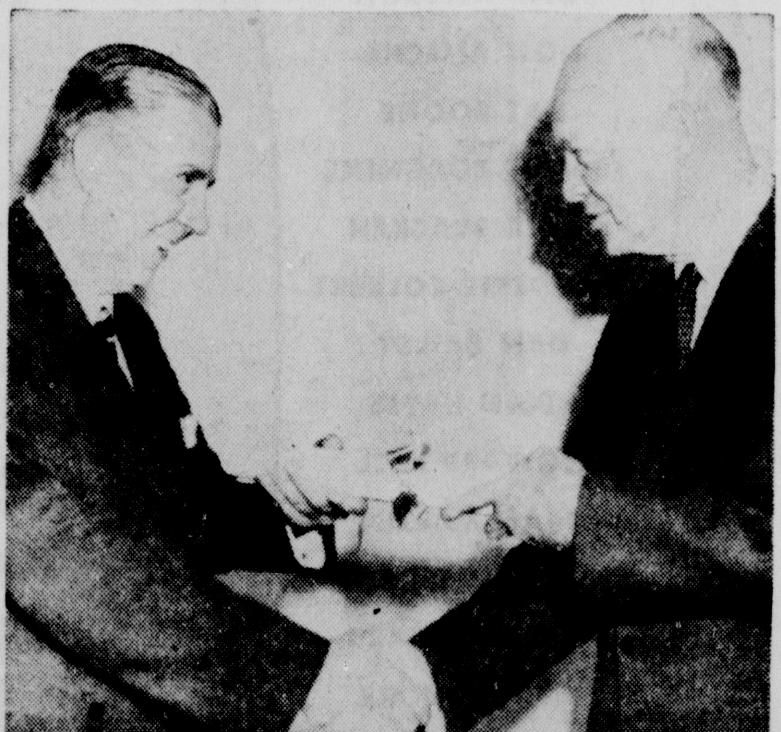

"Give Thanks by Giving," is the motto of the drive, Mr. Beggs stated.

Money will be used to help train a person to teach mentally retarded children in Saline county, he stated.

Drive chairmen for various communities were announced as follows:

Harrisburg, Russell Malan; Dorrisville, Brose Phillips; Eldorado, Audie Stone; Carrier Mills, John Ellis Austin; Raleigh, Cecil Fulkerson; Galatia, N.R. Gullie; Independence, Kestner Wallace; Wason, Carl McClerren; new rural community consolidated school district near Eldorado, Loren Tucker.

He said envelopes and literature would be in the schools of the county next week.

Arrested for Questioning About Checks

A man who gave his name as William Thomas Harper, 31, Overland, Mo., was arrested at mid-morning by city police in uptown Harrisburg and was taken to the police department for questioning about some checks cashed late yesterday.

He was to be questioned about checks written on the Harrisburg National bank and which did not clear.

First checks to come in were: $25 cashed at Kroger's, $35 cashed at Winkelman's jewelry store, $16 cashed at the Brokerage, $60 cashed at the Fashion Palace.

Army to Boost Draft Calls In January

WASHINGTON (AP)—At the same time the Defense Department is reducing the size of the armed forces, the Army is increasing its draft call.

Starting in January the draft will be boosted by almost 50 percent. It will be even higher in the following five months.

The Defense Department said Friday night 10,000 men would be called into the Army in January compared with 7,000 in October, November and December. This is the largest Army call since last August when 11,000 men were drafted.

The increase came at a time when the Army is reducing its overall strength from a present level of some 4 million men to a goal of 900,000 men by next June 30.

Explaining the apparent conflict, Army officials pointed out that "less effective" men are being rapidly weeded out of the service and reenlistment standards have been raised.

The monthly draft call is the number of men needed to meet Army goals after such things as departures from service, enlistments and reenlistments, have been taken into consideration.

Every two years monthly departures hit a peak because of the large draft calls in 1950 when the Korean War started. Previous peak years were 1952, 1954 and 1956.

Lake Glendale Vandalism Halts Experimental Work

Valve Opened Causing Water To Leave Area

Thousands of Fish Pound Screen; Hundreds Killed

An act of vandalism at Lake Glendale this week has postponed experimentation there by the Illinois Natural History Survey for two or three years.

The Illinois Natural History Survey was lowering the water slowly in the 80-acre lake on the Shawnee National Forest to make a study of fish, but somebody opened the valve wide Sunday night, causing the water to gush from the lake and trapping thousands of fish against a screen about 250 feet below the valve opening.

Dr. D. F. Hanson, Urbana, in charge of the experiment, told Robert Webb, manager of the state's Dixon Springs Experiment Station, that the act "had fouled up the works completely" and that it would be two or three years before the experimental work planned at this time could be made.

Many Bass, Bluegill Die
Dr. Hanson told Mr. Webb that it would be impossible to conduct experiments at this time because many of the fish were bruised and injured and he did not know how many more would die. Dr. Hanson returned to Urbana Thursday and said he would return in March.

Several hundred bass and bluegill died when the water rushed out of the lake. An inspection showed many fine large bluegill and a number of bass, which were not so large. Dr. Hanson told workers at the experiment station that he believed the larger bass were able to stay in the creek channel that runs through the lake.

The State Natural History Survey has an agreement with the U. S. Forest Service, on whose land the lake lies, to conduct experiments in fish and waterfowl management. The lake was built in 1936-37 and the natural history survey has regulated fishing. It requires permits for fishing, no fishing with minnows is allowed, and catches are recorded before the fisherman leaves.

Left Instructions

This was the third or fourth draining of the lake for experimental purposes since it was constructed.

Wayne Mizell, an employee at the experimental station for 19 years, said approximately two and one-half tons of fish consisting of about 5,000 bluegill and 1,000 smaller bass went through the opening and smashed into the screen about 250 feet down the creek. The screen had been placed there to hold back any fish that might escape during the regulated draining period.

Mr. Mizell said that Dr. Hanson had been at the lake two or three weeks, supervising the gradual lowering of the water level. Dr. Hanson left Friday for Urbana, leaving instructions with Mr. Mizell and Lee Guard, another employee, to keep the valve opened eight inches until they saw fish coming up close to the opening, then to narrow it to four inches.

Rains Help Increase Water

Sunday, Mr. Mizell stated, he and Mr. Guard cut the opening down to four inches, then went

British Flying Boat Crashes; 43 Dead

NEWPORT, Isle of Wight, England (AP)—A crippled British flying boat struggling to reach open water crashed into a chalk pit on this island, killing 43 of the 58 persons aboard, it was officially announced today.

The huge four-engine plane crashed in flames Friday night while attempting to return to its base at Southampton only minutes after it had taken off. It plunged into a wooded area at the Shalcombe farm, almost in the center of the island, and slid into the pit.

Fifteen persons fought their way out or were helped from the blazing wreckage by rescuers. Six were hospitalized with critical or serious injuries. Nine suffered lesser hurts.

Rescue operations were suspended for hours by a heavy peaspow fog which rolled in from the English channel during the pre-dawn hours.

All Passengers British

All aboard the plane were believed to be Britons. The plane, owned by the Aquila Airlines, was flying 50 passengers on a winter holiday to the Canary Islands, via Lisbon, Portugal. It carried a crew of eight.

Ten minutes after takeoff, the pilot radioed he was turning back because of engine trouble. A few minutes later the plane caught fire and plummeted into the chalk pit, some eight miles from Newport.

Police and firemen raced to the scene but were hampered by blazing grass and trees in the surrounding woods, touched off by the flames from the plane.

Rescuers reported finding a number of survivors staggering from the plane with hair and clothing afire. Others rolled on the ground to extinguish burning clothes.

Two survivors, Mrs. Mary Magson and her daughter, Sheila, told newsmen of the crash in a nearby farmhouse after staggering unharmed from the wreckage.

"The takeoff was extremely bad," Mrs. Magson said. "We were in trouble right from the start and everyone expected us to land on the water again."

"The plane was on fire before it crashed. There was no panic but suddenly there was a terrific crash and everything seemed to cave in around us. The plane seemed to be turning over and sliding away and now we know it was sliding into the chalk pit."

Carbondale Man Killed, Three Hurt In Auto Collision

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP)—Jess Johnson, 41, Carbondale, was killed and three other persons injured in a head-on collision two miles east of here Friday on the Ill. 13 bridge over Crab Orchard Lake.

State police said the injured were Charles Craig, 57, Carterville; Claude L. Roland, 19, Energy; and Larry Barnes, 21, Herrin.

A third car, driven by Herrin auto dealer Charles Mezo, was damaged when it plowed into the wreckage.

Jupiter Hits Atlantic Target

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP)—The Army disclosed Friday its Jupiter C intermediate range ballistic missile sped more than a thousand miles to hit its target in the Atlantic.

Authorities disclosed the Jupiter C's performance following first release of eyewitness reports of the missile as it struck the "impact" area.

Redstone Arsenal, producers of the giant rocket, described an impact area as a circular region inside which the rocket is to fall as opposed to a target such as an aircraft carrier.

The Air Force announced at almost the same time that the Snark SM-62 intercontinental guided missile delivered a simulated hydrogen warhead "with unprecedented accuracy" on a tiny ocean target near Ascension Island in the South Atlantic on Oct. 31.

The flight was the world's first known demonstration of a true intercontinental missile's capability. An Air Force announcement said the flight "places any target in the world in range of United States bases."

Senator Douglas to Hold Meeting on Area Redevelopment Here Nov. 21

Senator Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.) announced today that he will conclude his fall tour of Illinois with two meetings to consider the urgent need for more jobs in Southern Illinois. The meetings will be held on Nov. 21 at Harrisburg, in the court house, at 10 a. m. and at Cairo, in the court house at 2 p. m.

"Many responsible leaders believe that federal assistance in the industrial redevelopment of areas where there is a surplus of labor is the best hope for a solution to this problem," said Senator Douglas in announcing the meetings. "I have, therefore, introduced the Area Redevelopment Bill, (S. 964) to assist these areas of prolonged and excessive unemployment and underemployment to recover their economic stability through self-help measures. Hearings were held on S. 964 during the last session of Congress and will be concluded early in the next session, and I have hopes of bringing the bill to a vote soon after Congress convenes in January."

"The purpose of the meetings is to report on the progress made in Congress on the bill and to hear about present employment conditions and what plans and programs of self-help have been started in Southern Illinois on this problem," continued the Illinois Senator. "I know Southern Illinois areas are waging a valiant fight to help themselves, and I want to hear at first hand what the current needs are and what is being done. By so doing I can better interpret the problems of these areas and of other areas like them in other states in Washington at the next session of Congress."

"I plan to give facts and figures to show the need for the Area Redevelopment bill at the meetings," reported Senator Douglas, "and to hear the reports and recommendations of those who live in the area. The need is apparent when the biennial request of the Illinois Public Aid Commission is increased, as it was, to $367,000, 000, or $85,000,000 over the previous two years. Increased job opportunities and more pay envelopes will not only substantially lower these rising relief costs, but will make better citizens all along the line.

"I hope," concluded the Illinois Democrat, "that there will be a good turnout of representative leaders from business, labor, the Chamber of Commerce, and University members who are working on this problem, as well as those who are directly affected by loss of employment. I also hope that all will feel free to speak their minds on this problem but if there are any who would care just to come and listen, they are cordially invited to do that."

Three Killed, Five Girls Hurt In Auto Crash

WARRENSBURG, Ill. (AP)—Three persons, one of them a minister, were killed and five teen-age girls seriously injured in a two-car collision Friday night.

Jake Emrick, about 60, Indianapolis, and the Rev. Thomas L. Corn, 30, minister of the Drexel Garden Church at Indianapolis, and Donna Rowe, 17, Decatur, Ill., were killed in the crash.

Five other girls, Diana Sunderland, 16, Carol Key, 16, Barbara Ross, 17, and Janet Ross, 16, all of Decatur, and Rosalie Griffey, 18, Indianapolis, were reported in serious to critical condition at Decatur and Macon County Hospital.

Authorities said Emrick and Rev. Corn had been attending a session at the Lincoln Bible Institute, Lincoln, Ill., and were returning to Indianapolis with Miss Griffey who had been visiting her sister in Lincoln.

James L. Hughes, a truck driver told authorities that the car driven by Miss Rowe apparently skidded, missed his truck, and hit the Emrick car.

Miss Rowe's father, Al Rowe, an announcer at station WSOY in Decatur, received word of the accident and went to the hospital with a radio car to give an on-the-spot account of the accident. He was already broadcasting from the emergency room when he discovered one of the victims was his daughter.

Plan Your Farmstead For More Efficiency

Careful planning will help you to organize your long-range farm business better even though you make needed farmstead improvements only one at a time.

The important thing is to start with a drawing of the buildings you have and then decide what needs to be eliminated, changed or added to meet present and future needs, says Don Jede, extension agricultural engineer at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

Farmstead improvements will depend on your farm business, Jede says. For that reason, any building or remodeling plans should be based on whether you are making the best use of your farm resources in your farm operations.

For example, you may decide that to grow a maximum amount of grain you need to change your field arrangement and your longtime land-use program. You may then have to plan for more grain storage.

To build up and preserve soil fertility, you may need to grow more grasses and legumes in your rotation. That may mean more livestock to get highest income from your crop acres. That in turn may mean enlarging or remodeling your feeding center and your livestock facilities.

Good farmstead arrangement will pay off in easier and faster choring, the agricultural engineer believes. So, before you plan any improvements, analyze each farm job and decide what arrangement will be best for getting the work done. Then plan your building arrangement for easiest operation.

And, most important, look ahead in your planning. Consider not only your present needs, but also what you are likely to need five or 10 years from now.

Items of Agricultural Interest

AGAINST A BACKDROP of oak trees in "Thompson's Woods" stands Southern Illinois University's new Agriculture Building, occupied for the first time this fall but still in the process of completion. Extending 544 feet from north to south, only parts of the one-story north and south wings are indicated in this picture emphasizing the two-story central wing, which contains the School of Agriculture administrative offices, an air-conditioned auditorium-exhibition hall, conference-seminar rooms, and classrooms and laboratories for the Agriculture Industries Department. (SIU Photo Service)

TOP CORN YIELDS come from top soil treatment as shown by this 1957 harvest on the Uni-
years of continuous corn with no treatment produced a yield of only 42 bushels an acre; continuous corn with lime, nitrogen, phosphate and potash since 1955 yielded 106 bushels; continuous corn with manure-lime-phosphate treatment since 1904 and extra nitrogen, phosphate, and potash since 1955 yielded 121 bushels. Top yield was made on the corn-oats rotation plot, where a straight manure-lime-phosphate treatment since 1904 produced 133 bushels an acre. (U. of Illinois Photo)

Remodelled Crib for Good Corn Storage

Well-built corn cribs in good condition can easily be converted into shelled corn storage.

J. O. Curtis, agricultural engineer at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, says that if remodelling costs less than 25 to 30 cents a bushel of storage capacity it probably is the thing to do.

Loads of shelled corn are 3 1/2 times as heavy as ear corn against the side walls and nearly twice as heavy on the floor, Curtis points out. So you'll probably need to strengthen the crib considerably.
You'll also have to make the roof, walls and floor weathertight.

Crib floors made of concrete resting on the ground may not need to be strengthened. Doubling the existing joists is usually enough for wooden floors. Strengthening crib walls for shelled corn storage is chiefly a job of adding a system of steel cross-tie rods about 6 1/2 feet above floor level.

One way to make the walls weathertight is to renaill the crib siding and cover the outside with weather-proof siding. Then cover the inside with sheet metal or other covering to keep grain from getting into the cracks between the cribbing boards.

For full information, ask your county farm adviser for a copy of Illinois Circular 775, "Remodeling Crib for Shelled-Corn Storage." Or write directly to the College of Agriculture, Urbana, for a copy.

work into honorary membership in the organization.

Honorary Key Club members include Milo L. Margenau, national coordinator and originator of the Key Award Program for the Cities
Service Oil Company, Bartlesville, Oklahoma; Stillman J. Stanard, director of the Illinois State De-

In other business the members also voted to adopt their official constitution and by-laws and increased membership on the Board of Directors to a boy and a girl elected from each of the 10 extension sub-districts in the state, with terms of two years. Terms are staggered so that half the board

S.I.U. Country Column

By Albert Meyer

The air waves, the television channels, and the printed pages are filled with discussion about sputniks, rockets, missiles, and jet propelled aircraft. Highway engineers and automotive industrialists are concerned with getting more people and more things somewhere else more quickly and more comfortably.

With all this speed it has become obvious that farm folks and city folks are becoming separated by a wider and deeper chasm and that something needs to be done to get them together a little more closely. It is important that they understand each other's problems a little better and have a better appreciation of each other.

This common understanding was not much of a problem to frontier Americans. Life was more simple—even if it was hard. Less than 100 years ago 80 percent of the people in the United States were wrestling their living from the soil. A farmer was hard put to produce just enough for his own family and one or two other persons.

Today the situation is drastically different. The dirt farmer is but a small percent of the total population in the United States and he produces the food and fiber for 18 or 19 persons besides himself. The rural farm population is but 12.5 percent of the nation's total population. Life is more complex. Farming is much more complicated, just as is industry, yet all parts of society must depend upon each other for survival more than ever before. The day of being self-sufficient in food, clothing, or the tools with which to earn a livelihood has passed.

Because mutual understanding between the city dweller and the farmer has deteriorated, a movement to try to bridge the gap is gaining new attention in a kind of public relations program. The idea is to get the rural and the urban people together often for some type of special activity or program that will give them opportunity to learn something about each other and about their problems.

Illinois has a Rural-Urban Relations Committee for which the co-chairmen are Dr. Walter J. Willis of the Southern Illinois University School of Agriculture, and Norman Kraeft, farm service supervisor for Radio Station WGN, Chicago. Several other states have similar co-ordinating committees which try to promote the program of understanding. Last year there was some type of rural-urban program carried on in 150 Illinois towns and villages in 66 counties. Included were tours, picnics, dinners, recognition activities, joint promotions, or other events. Chambers of Commerce and various civic organizations have sponsored many of these, but there also have been a number of farm organizations involved.

Some investigation by the Illinois committee has pretty well established the fact that the farmers and the city dwellers are interested and anxious to know something about each other's activities and problems, but they just have not had an organized medium by which to get together.

Most thought the events last year were successful. Most farmers in districts that they welcomed farm tours by other farmers and towns people, and the operators of factories, processing plants, and other businesses showed an equal interest in having visits from farm groups.

Undoubtedly this kind of program needs much broadening to get increased understanding. Tours can have an enlightening benefit. Bring the urban dweller—the business man, the factory worker, the general consumer—to the farm and give him a first-hand picture of complexities that a modern farmer faces in producing food crops, meat and dairy products, and fiber, and give him an understanding of the financial risks that every farmer takes continually, and he may gain a new appreciation of farming and its problems.

Take the farmer to the processing or manufacturing plant and let him see some of the problems the industrialist and the businessman faces in transforming farm products into something that more consumers will want to buy, and in creating and making new and better machines and chemicals for the farm, and he may be more understanding, too.

To spotlight this rural-urban program more specifically a national Farm-City Week has been established. This year's special week has been designated for November 22-28 by a joint resolution of the Houses of Congress.

Estimate Corn Crop in State 513 Million Bushels

SPRINGFIELD — The 1957 Illinois corn crop today was estimated at 513 million bushels by the State-Federal Crop Reporting Service. This was up somewhat from earlier estimates and only 14 percent smaller than last year's record smashing crop.

The 1957 soybean crop was placed at 130 million bushels, 53 percent larger than average and the second largest crop in state history, following last year's record.

The service said the indicated corn yield was up two bushels from the October estimate, to 62 bushels an acre which is six less than last year's record.

The soybean yield was estimated at 25.5 bushels an acre.

On crop conditions, the service said much of the corn crop still has too high a moisture content for safe cribbing and this had further delayed the harvest.

Only about 62 percent of the crop has been harvested; last year the harvest was completed by this time.

Most corn belt farmers are having the same trouble, the service said. Only about a fourth of the Iowa corn crop had been picked by Nov. 4, and in Indiana the crop was only 35 percent harvested early this month.

Except for a few late fields in southern Illinois, the soybean harvest has been completed.

Tests at midwest agricultural experiment stations have not shown any significant differences in results with solid and liquid fertilizers, says an agronomist at the University of Illinois.

Dates for the 7th annual Winter Short Course in Agriculture at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture have been set for February 3 through March 15, 1958, on the campus in Urbana.

Tree Growth Stops In Southern Illinois

DIXON SPRINGS—Oak trees at the University of Illinois Dixon Springs Experiment Station have stopped growing for this year.

Moisture content of the upper six feet of soil had dropped too low to support tree growth by September 10, reports C. E. Olson, Station research associate in forestry. Past experiences show that, one oak growth stops, even warm weather and heavy rainfall will not stimulate-season growth.

Farmers who want to manage their woodlands to get maximum tree growth must consider how soil moisture supply affects the trees, Olson says. It's a good idea to cut or kill poorly formed and other wise undesirable trees so that the better trees can use the available soil moisture.

A few hours spent this winter improving the timber stand may lead directly to better tree growth next year and a much more profitable woodland, according to the forester.

Most timber growers do not recognize the loss in tree growth that occurs when unwanted defective trees use soil moisture, Olson points out. The evidence is not so plain as weeds in a cultivated crop, but the effect on income from harvesting a poor crop is the same.

One Man Killed, 30 Injured in NYC Derailment

WHITE PIGEON, Mich. — A mail car foreman was killed and 30 persons injured early today when 10 of the 16 cars of the eastbound "Chicagoan" passenger train of the New York Central railroad went off the rails.

The victim was H. M. Nichols, 55, Chicago.

The most seriously injured were other mail clerks, all government employees. A New York Central spokesman said several of the clerks suffered serious fractures but none of the injured were in critical condition.

The train was carrying 158 passengers and mail clerks and a crew of six. There were six railroad postal cars behind the diesel engine, followed by four coaches, a combination baggage and freight car, four sleepers and the private car of J. T. Alexander, general manager of the New York Central's western district for Illinois-Indiana.

The New York Central said Alexander was in the private car but was not injured.

The diesel and the next ten cars left the tracks. Some of the cars "telescoped" as they piled up.

The train left Chicago at 10:15 p. m. e. s. t. and at Elkhart, Ind., was rerouted over the southern Michigan "old line" route because a freight train wreck at Archbold, Ohio, Friday had blocked the double tracks of the main line to New York.

Expect Next Sputnik With TV Will Scan World

WASHINGTON — A rocket authority said today Russia may try to put up a television-carrying satellite within 10 days to scan the world.

He said he has information indicating the Soviets will send up still another satellite—a gigantic 36,000-pound Sputnik—some time next month and may fire a rocket to the moon "within a matter of weeks."

Erik Bergaust, editor of Missiles and Rockets magazine, an authoritative trade publication in the rocket field, also disclosed the United States has just awarded a contract to Lockheed Aircraft Corp. to build an American television-equipped satellite. He said it will be ready in about 18 months.

Bergaust, who predicted the launching of the first two Sputniks, said the Russians have their next satellite-bearing missile "on the launching pad now" and may fire it in 10 days or two weeks.

He said in an interview he believes Sputnik III may carry a television camera that would survey areas of land and sea and transmit much vital data back to Russia.

A monkey or an ape probably will be aboard, he said.

Such a television vehicle could have incalculable military value, providing unstopable aerial reconnaissance of the United States and most of the free world.

Bergaust said the United States has been making strides in its TV satellite program, called "Project Piped Piper." He said this was shown in the contract to Lockheed to go ahead and build one.

17 Die in Early Morning Fire

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. — An early-morning fire in a three-story frame structure that housed several Negro families brought death today to 17 persons, including 14 children.

The charred bodies of 3 adults and 13 children were carried from the gutted tenement area building, known as the Moonlight Hotel but used as a permanent residence, shortly after firemen put out the smoldering blaze.

One other victim, Mrs. Mary Ewing, 25, mother of six of the children who lost their lives, was found alongside the blackened structure after she had made a fatal leap from a window.

Authorities said the other death victims included Jack Thompson, John Jackson and six children of the family of Sanford Reid, who was treated at a hospital and later discharged. Four other Reid children were treated at a hospital for minor injuries.

Lake Glendale Vandalism Halts Experiment Work

back Sunday evening to inspect the situation and clean out a screen.

At 7 a. m. Monday they returned to the valve tower and found the valve had been opened to ten or 12 inches, with practically all the water out of the creek and an estimated two and a half tons of fish jammed against the screen down the creek from the lake.

Mr. Mizell said that the lake bed from the shore to the tower was dry enough for somebody to walk to the tower and open up the valve.

He said the Natural History Survey at Urbana was called and it was learned Dr. Hanson was en route to Lake Glendale.

He added that approximately 150 washtubs of fish were transported from the screen, where there was only a small amount of water in the creek, back into parts of the lake where there was water for them. This was done by bulldozing a path for trucks to drive into the screen area.

This week the area was greeted by 4.75 inches of rainfall, and with the lake having a good watershed, quite a bit of water had gone into the lake.

WHAT'S ON THE MOON?—With all the talk going around about man reaching the moon, the question is: What will he find when he gets there? Scientists, who have studied the moon over a distance of 240,000 miles for centuries, describe it as a rugged, dusty, lifeless globe. It has none of the earth's life-giving qualities, not even air. In man's earliest observations, light and dark areas were detected. Dark areas were believed to be water. These areas were given the name "maria," or seas. Later investigation revealed them to be dry plains. Some of the maria (see Newschart) are of tremendous size. Light areas on the moon are mountain ranges. Among the most impressive sights, easily discernible through even low-powered telescopes, are the craters. Scientists are not in agreement as to what caused them. Some believe they are the result of impact of meteors; others believe they were formed by volcanic activity in the centuries before the moon cooled. The moon is subjected to extreme temperatures. In the center of the light side, it reaches 214 degrees, about the boiling point of water. Away from the sun, it drops to 250 degrees below zero.

Grant to SIU to Permit Full Scale Service to Handicapped

CARBONDALE, Ill. — The U. S. Office of Vocational Rehabilitation has granted Southern Illinois University's Rehabilitation Institute $36,905 to begin a full scale program of service to the handicapped, the first of its kind in the Southern Illinois area. Grants to the Institute for this year now total $100,000.

Earmarked for the extension and improvement of rehabilitation facilities at SIU, the money will enable the Institute to begin a long-planned program of service to students and non-students alike. It will combine counseling and therapy for the physically handicapped, establishment of a college program tailored to the special needs of severely crippled students, and actual on-campus work experience for student trainees in the field of rehabilitation. The grant, covering the next eight months of operation, is renewable for three more years.

Dr. Guy Renzaglia, director, said the Institute's services will be available through a Coordinated Clinical Services Center, a newly created agency which will group all existing mental and physical assistance programs under one campus roof.

The new setup will enable the University to bring its many therapeutic and counseling functions to bear on any one individual case. An example would be a spastic, who may require physiotherapy to improve his gait, a guidance or psychological counselor to iron out a study problem and a rehabilitation expert to assist him in job placement.

Although the bulk of the grant is to be used for adapting campus structures to the needs of the handicapped and buying treatment equipment, it also will pay the fees of outside specialists whose consulting services will be made available through the rehabilitation section of the Clinical Services Center. One consultant already named is Dr. Joseph Schaeffer, associate director of the Peoria Institute for Physical Medicine. He will visit the Center once or twice a week, handling cases within his area of specialization.

Renzaglia said the Institute should be equipped to devote full time attention to as many as eight severely handicapped students when that phase of the overall operation — the tailor-made college program for special cases — gets underway in January. Applicants will be chosen by the Illinois Division of Vocational Rehabilitation which pays their way through school. Final screening for the eight "winning" students will be completed by Rehabilitation Institute personnel at SIU.

Dr. Albert Shafter, assistant director of the Institute and former consultant to the handicapped for the Illinois Department of Public Welfare, said there are some 900 severely handicapped persons in Southern Illinois who could profit from a college education and hundreds more who need the services of an area service center. "This will mark the first step toward providing these people a needed facility in the entire downstate area," he said. The University of Illinois previously has been the nearest source of a combined rehabilitation-education arrangement.

Services to non-students will be set up on a regular appointment basis, much as Southern's Speech and Hearing Clinic now operates. Physically handicapped adults will receive the same coordinated "team" treatment as students.

'The Resurrection and Our Faith'

I Corinthians 15:3-8; 42-52
GOLDEN TEXT: "Therefore, my beloved brethren, be ye steadfast, unmovable, always abounding in the work of the Lord forasmuch as ye know that your labor is not in vain in the Lord." (1 Cor. 15:58)

INTRODUCTION — Belief in the resurrection of Christ and his followers is fundamental in the Christian faith. In the chapter of the Bible that we are studying today Paul says: "If Christ be not risen your faith is vain, (V. 17). Without the resurrection our whole system of theology is wrecked."

There are some very fine people today who have gone off on a tangent on the second coming of Christ. That is all they preach about. Now, the second coming is an important Bible doctrine. Jesus is coming back to this earth. However, if I were going to emphasize one doctrine more than all the others, it would not be the second coming of Jesus, but rather, the resurrection. Without the resurrection there could be no second coming. Without it there can be no hope of heaven for the redeemed of all the ages.

"But now is Christ risen from the dead, and become the first-fruits of them that slept." (V. 20).

I JESUS IS RISEN (R. 3-8)

Please note that in the first three verses Paul is reminding the Christians at Corinth (and us) that Jesus Christ died to save sinners. This is the gospel, the good news.

Too many folks today are mistaken concerning the purpose and ministry of the church. The church is not a social organization designed to meet the social needs of its members. Neither is it an organization through which a set of rules are laid down for its members to live by. Certainly these needs are met in and through the church. However, the resurrection is at the center of every right thinking church. body. What every individual needs is a deep abiding faith in the resurrection. Is there ample proof of the resurrection? There certainly is. Paul tells here how many different people saw Jesus after he had risen from the grave. At one time there were more than five hundred people who saw him. Paul, himself, saw the risen Lord, "as one born out of due time."

II THE GLORY OF THE RESURRECTION (V. 42-49)

In verse 1 "Paul speaks of the glory of the sun, stars and moon. Then he begins to speak of the glory of the resurrection. It is compared to the planting of a seed into the ground. The seed dies before new life comes. The flower which comes forth is far greater in beauty than the dead seed which went before it."

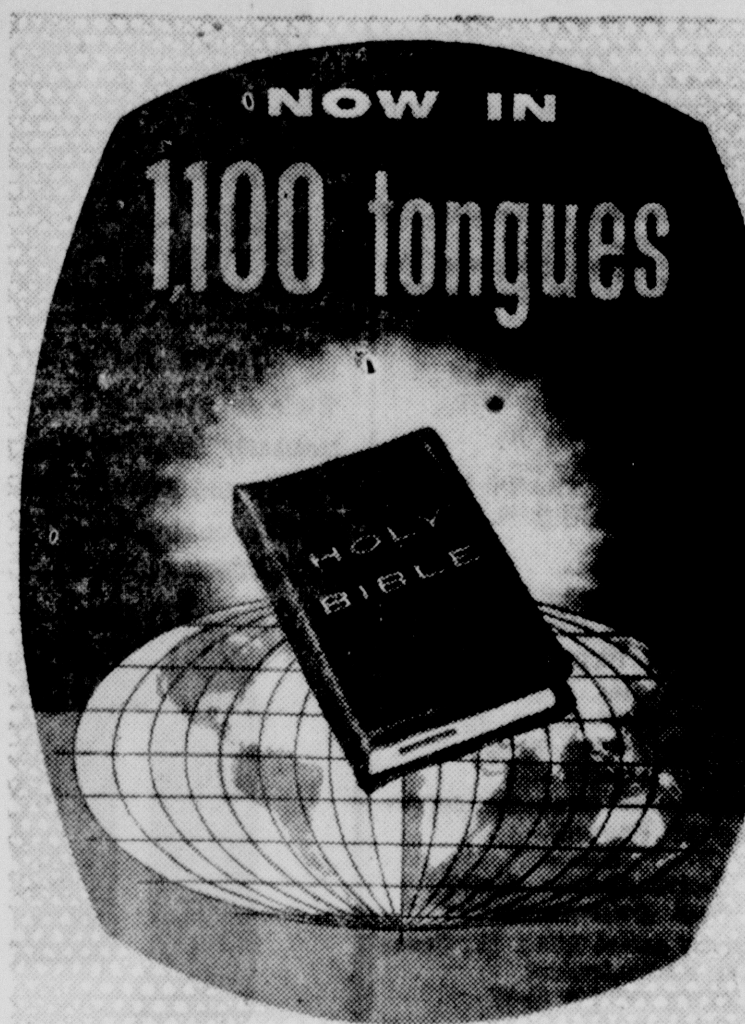

So it is with the body which is "sown in corruption; it is raised in incorruption. It is sown in dishonor, weakness; it is raised in power." Our natural body will be laid away in the earth. When Jesus comes it will be raised to be like him. Why? Because "He has become the first-fruits of them that slept."

III THE GREAT CHANGE (V. 50-52)

Not everyone will sleep. That is not everyone will die. When Jesus returns to this earth, "every eye shall see him, and every tongue shall confess him, and every knee will bow to him." Those Christians who are dead will be caught up out of their burial places to meet him. "The dead in Christ shall rise first." (V. 52).

Now, those Christians who are living at the time of Jesus' return to earth will be caught up after the dead in Christ are risen. These will not die but they "shall be changed in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye." In other words, all Christians shall be made incorruptible in that great resurrection.

CONCLUSION (V. 58) Since we have faith to believe in the great coming resurrection: "Therefore, my beloved brethren, be ye steadfast, unmovable, always abounding in the work of the Lord,"

God must speak to men. Despite the barriers of language and dialect which separate nation from nation, tribe from tribe—God must speak to men!

This conviction has long inspired the American Bible Society in its stupendous task... to translate God's word into every tongue... to place the Bible in every hand.

Now in 1,100 tongues God has spoken to men through inspired Scripture. In marble cathedrals and mud huts the same timeless truths are read, heard, taught and discussed in the words men know. And millions of Bibles, Testaments, and portions of Scripture are being placed in eager hands.

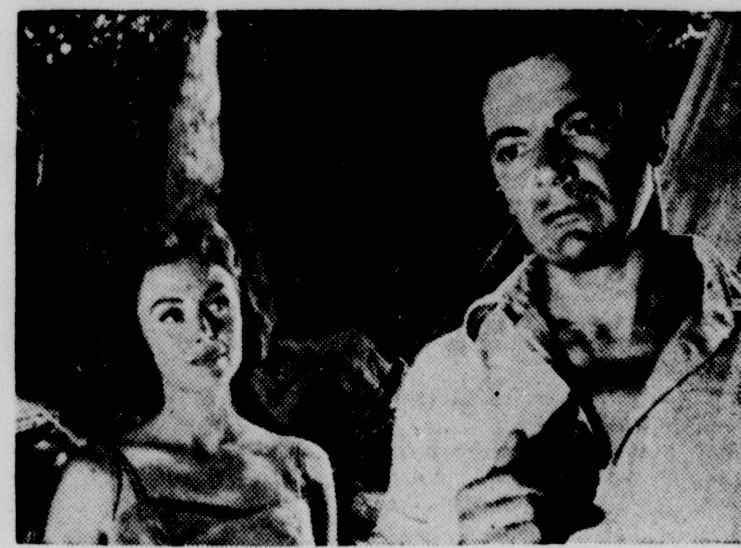

This is our triumph... and our continuing challenge... the countless Christians who, individually and through our churches, make possible the work of the American Bible Society. Thank God! Carry on!

Sinatra Suffers Powder Wound from Blank Cartridge During Filming Show

By WILLIAM EWALD
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK — The channel swim...

Frank Sinatra suffered a gun-powder wound when a .38 blank went off too close to the back of his neck during filming of his Nov. 29 ABC-TV show, "A Gun At His Back." The bandage he wears through the episode is for real. Incidentally, ABC-TV, disturbed by Sinatra's low ratings, is trying to coax more live shows out of him.

NBC radio and Mr. and Mrs. Steve Allen have just about closed a deal for a husband and wife gab show—it'll be beamed from the Allens' Park Ave. apartment sometime after the turn of the year... Teddy Rooney, 6-year-old product of Mickey Rooney and Martha Vickers, makes his TV debut in "The Galvanized Yankee," a Dec. 5 offering on CBS-TV's Playhouse 90.

Jan Davis Weds
Singer Janette Davis and Frank Musiello, two members of the Arthur Godfrey family, secretly tied the knot on Oct. 17. Musiello is a member of the Godfrey production staff... Ed Murrell and Fred Friendly are sitting on seven hours of film they shot of Harry Truman. The former President is turning down all TV interview dates until a show is hashed out of it.

Bing Crosby has decided to pull out of a planned CBS weekly radio show as well as the CBS-TV spec he was slated for on Dec. 11—Crosby's next date with the airwaves is Christmas Eve when he capers in this third annual "Sing With Bing."

Television records some sort of milestone Nov. 27 when ABC-TV beams out "Bamberger's Thanksgiving Parade of Light"—the pageant will feature a giraffe pulling a cage, inside of which heavy-weight champ Floyd Patterson will stage a wrestling match with a gorilla, Gaby II. This Sunday's two-hour General Motors spec on NBC-TV will wind up on British television film... CBS-TV is planning to resuscitate the old "Suspense" show.

Merriman Bows Out
Check-outs: Randy Merriman is out as host of CBS-TV's "The Big Payoff"—Ted Steele is shaping up as his replacement... Del Sharbutt has pulled out of ABC-TV's "Do You Trust Your Wife" with Bill Nimmo taking over.

Robert Taylor, who treats TV like Asian flu, breaks his "no TV" rule when he introduces an upcoming "Navy Log" show, "Hell-divers Over Greece."

The price of fame: After her rendition of "Jailhouse Rock" on "Your Hit Parade," Ginny Gibson received a fan letter from the "Entertainment Committee" at Sing Sing Prison—they invited her up to their place to repeat the number.

New Pontiacs On Display at Pool's

The new 1958 Pontiacs, which include 16 models in four series, are now on display at the Pool Pontiac Sales, Harrisburg dealer.

A new body, new chassis, new "Tempest 395" V-8 engine, new optional equipment and a new Bonneville series of family size "dream cars" mark the new line.

In addition to the five-passenger Bonneville convertible and the sport coupe, Pontiac has for 1958, the Star Chief series consisting of two and four-door Catalinas, a four-door sedan with slim center pillar, and a custom Safari station wagon. The Super Chief line includes two and four-door Catalinas and a slim pillar, four-door sedan. The Chief-tain series is led by the convertible, new in this line; two and four-door Catalinas, two and four-door slim pillar sedans, and a two-seat and a three-seat, four-door station wagon.

A total of 21 solid colors and 56 recommended two-tone paint combinations are offered, some in the new acrylic lacquers, while interiors are color-matched in fabric and leather.

On 122 inch and 124 inch wheel-bases, the new Pontiacs are as much as 4.5 inches lower in height, are 2.2 inches wider and as much as 8.7 inches longer overall. Passenger leg room has been increased by 4.5 inches, ample head room is retained and luggage space is enlarged.

Leading an exceptional parade of optional equipment for the new cars is air ride suspension, new for passenger cars in the middle price range, which gives an ever-level ride regardless of load or road conditions. Pontiac's fuel injection, introduced last year, has been improved and tailored for the new, bigger engine. Super Hydramatic transmission, power brakes, power steering, power-operated windows, four-way power seat with a new "memo-matic" control device, which returns it to a pre-selected setting, are other extras, as is a new "safeguard" speedometer, which buzzes when a set speed is exceeded; a new "safet-track" differential, which eliminates rear wheel slip; a new split

Galatia, Ridgway and Rosiclare Win Greater Egyptian Loop Tilts

Galatia, Ridgway and Rosiclare won Greater Egyptian conference games Friday as the GEC schedule got underway in earnest.

The Ridgway victory was the second of the season for Bob Dallas' Eagles, while the others were scoring their first league win of the year.

Ridgway won by a good margin, 65-41, at Pope County, Equality was edged out, 59-57, at Rosiclare and Galatia staged a last half rally to win from Cave-in-Rock 76-67.

In winning their second BEC game of the year, Ridgway gained an early lead over Pope County and controlled the ball game all the way.

Dallas described Ridgway's defensive play as the best a team has played for him in his three years at the school. "The defense was great," he declared.

Suttner Scores 19 Points

Suttner, although held to far below his usual point production, was high for Ridgway with 19 points. Clifford, with 16 and Drone's 12, gave the Eagles good scoring balance.

Boaz topped Pope County scoring with 11.

Galatia, trailing by 16 points at half time, came roaring back to grab a 76-67 victory over Cave-in-Rock.

During the first half the Rockers, with two decisions to their credit, shot a red-hot 682 from the field and threatened to run Galatia right out of the game.

After a quarter of play the visiting Rockers held a 20-8 advantage. Galatia, playing its first game of the season, began to show signs of life in the second period, but was still far back at halftime.

A tremendous 23-9 rally in the third period pulled Galatia to a 48-13 score with seconds to play, then Cave-in-Rock hit from the field to claim a 50-48 margin after three quarters of play.

The quarter-time intermission failed to cool off the Galatia Bearcats, who continued to roll in the last period and went on to take a 76-67 victory.

Odle Leads Bearcats

Philip Odle, 6-0 senior, who had been ill and wasn't suited up in the early part of the game, was permitted to see action in the fourth quarter and in seven minutes he scored 15 points, leading the Bearcats down the comeback trail.

Gary Hill, 5-9 junior, was high for the winners with 18 points.

Topping the game's scorers was the 20 points pitched in by Shore of Cave-in-Rock.

Equality, opening the season against the GEC defending champion Rosiclare Bears, on the Rosiclare floor, lost a thriller, 59-57 in the last 11 seconds of play.

Equality had trailed through a DAZZLER—Coach Eddie Erdelatz calls Tom Forrestal the slickest college quarterback in the country. The Cleveland flipper engineers the aerial attack which sinks Navy opposition.

EYEFUL—When Sally Kumpf watches Minnesota play football she looks for a lot more than the average fan. For, as Mrs. Bobby Cox, she hangs on every move made by her husband, All-America prospect quarterback for the Gophers. It's either nail-biting or smile.

Carrier Mills Wins Decisive 65-41 Tilt from Shawneetown

Carrier Mills, with four players scoring in double figures, won a decisive 65-41 decision from Shawneetown Friday night. The game was played at Shawneetown.

During the first four minutes of the game the teams battled on even terms and with two minutes remaining in the opening frame the score was knotted at 10-10, but at the end of the quarter CM was in front 19-10.

Mitchell opened the scoring with a fielder and Keene hit a free toss to put CM in the lead 3-0, then Monroe and Cox teamed to pull Shawneetown to a tie. Carrier Mills again went in front, 6-3, then Shawneetown rallied and pulled away to a 10-6 advantage with three minutes of the period left.

In the final three minutes CM scored 13 consecutive points and held the home club scoreless.

Carrier Mills continued to roll and early in the second frame had built up a 35-14 margin.

Fullmer Wins Decision Over Neal Rivers

NEW YORK (AP)—Former champion Gene Fullmer yelled louder than ever today for a February return shot at the middleweight crown after his majority decision over dangerous Neal Rivers.

Bull-shouldered Fullmer protected his status as possible challenger Friday night by giving the California state champion a thorough body-beating in the late sessions of their exciting TV-radio 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden.

But Harry Markson, managing director of the International Boxing Club, said "everything must be held in abeyance until Sugar Ray Robinson decides what to do—probably within the next 10 days."

Robinson, who recaptured the 160-pound title from Fullmer on May 1 and lost it to Carmen Basilio on Sept. 23, has a return-bout contract with champion Basilio.

Fullmer, West Jordan, Utah, registered his third straight comeback victory since his fifth-round knockout by Robinson in May. Registering 159½ pounds, second-ranked Gene clinched the verdict by his strong finish against 157-pound Rivers, who fights out of Los Angeles but claims Niagara Falls, N. Y., as his permanent home. Rivers is unranked. Gene's closing drive was punctuated by his taking the 10th round on all three official score sheets.

Car vs. Bear
NORWICH, N. Y.—(UP)—Leroy Jones vainly tried to swerve his car but it struck a 250-pound bear. The bear stood up, stared at Jones and romped off. The left fender of Jones' car was crumpled.
